

POLICY

Supporting Industry Development

We believe that industry associations play an important role in the development of the sector with whom they work.

They share insights on industry best practices and advocate for better outcomes in the interests of their members. Each industry association is different and the extent of IOR's participation depends on the issues we believe we can add value to.

IOR supports several sector-specific and general business associations, such as AgForce Queensland who are helping to ensure sustainable and long-term growth in Australian Agriculture.

Other industry associations that IOR supports include:

- Toowoomba Surat Basin Enterprise.
- Queensland Resources Council.
- South Australian Chamber of Mines and Energy.
- Australian Petroleum Production and Exploration Association.

We believe that by working with industry associations, we have an opportunity to influence better outcomes that benefit our customers, the industry, and the economy.

We are proud to participate and give back to the industries we work with. We look forward to helping our industries develop and grow."
